PROFILE

Architect MAA, Jan Ammundsen (born 1972) is Partner and Head of 3XN's Competition Department. He graduated from Aarhus School of Architecture in 2000 and has worked in 3XN since 2005 becoming a partner of the company already in 2007. As head of the competition department Jan Ammundsen is responsible for developing the ideas, design concept, and strategy for each competition project. As Head of the Competition Department, Jan is responsible for developing the design concept and strategy for each competition project, ensuring the ideas come out in the final result.

Jan Ammundsen is known as an outstanding architectural designer, whose involvement guarantees high quality and perfection. He has been the driving force behind many of the studio's award-winning designs including Rigshospitalet in Copenhagen, the Copenhagen Arena, Middelfart Savings Bank, the aquarium The Blue Planet, Frederiksberg Courthouse, the cultural centre Plassen in Molde, Norway, the Bella Sky Hotel in Copenhagen, Vällingby in Stockholm, and Uppsala University.

Jan Ammundsen has been awarded the prestigious "Europe 40 under 40" Award - a recognition given to extraordinary young talents within design and architecture.
